The DevOps with Docker course was created by Jami Kousa with the help of University of Helsinki's Tietojenkäsittelytieteen osaston sovelluskehitysakatemia (Toska) and numerous course attendees. This material is based on gist by Matti Paksula. You can help develop the course material as well.

As of 2022 the course was handed off to Matti Luukkainen the legendary creator of Full Stack Open. You can contact him on matti.luukkainen@helsinki.fi.

This material is following the official Docker guidelines presented on the official website. If you find anything conflicting or otherwise prohibited use, please inform us and we'll make the required changes.

This material is licenced under Creative Commons BY-NC-SA 3.0 -licence, so you can freely use and distribute the material, as long as original creators are credited. If you make changes to material and you want to distribute altered version it must be licenced under the same licence. Usage of material for commercial use is prohibited without permission.
